1. Aims

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSE) at our school are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- Prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

Pupils can develop an awareness of their own personal development and well-being.

2. Statutory requirements

In the Primary Phase we must provide relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

However, we are not required to provide sex education but we do need to teach the elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum.

In teaching RSE, we must have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

At The Bemrose School we teach RSE as set out in this policy.

In the Secondary Phase we must provide RSE to all pupils as per the Children and Social work act 2017.

In teaching RSE, we must have regard to to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

3. Definition

RSE is lifelong learning about physical, sexual, moral and emotional development. It is about the understanding of the importance of stable and loving relationships, respect, love and care, for family life. It involves acquiring information, developing skills and forming positive beliefs, values and attitudes. Effective sex and relationship education is essential if young people are to make responsible and well informed decisions about their lives.

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

4. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 but it may need to be adapted as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of the pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so they are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

Primary sex education will focus on:

- Preparing boys and girls for the changes that adolescence brings
- How a baby is conceived and born

For more information about the curriculum, see the curriculum map in Appendix 1.

5. Delivery of RSE

In the Primary Phase, RSE is taught by the class teacher and delivered through PSHE, Science, Citizenship and circle time lessons. In the Secondary Phase, RSE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum. Biological aspects of RSE are also taught within the science curriculum, and other aspects are included in religious education (RE).

For Secondary pupils, a trained health professional may deliver stand-alone sex education sessions.

Primary Phase

Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

- Families and people who care for me
- Caring friendships
- Respectful relationships
- Online relationships
- Being safe

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

Secondary Phase

RSE focuses on giving young people the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds including:

- Families
- Respectful relationships, including friendships
- Online and media
- Being safe
- Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

6. Roles and responsibilities

6.1 The governing board

The governing board will approve the RSE policy, and hold the Executive Headteacher to account for its implementation.

6.2 The Executive Headteacher

The Executive Headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from non-statutory components of RSE (see section 7).

6.3 Staff

All staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSE in a sensitive way

- Modelling positive attitudes to RSE
- Monitoring progress
- Responding to the needs of individual pupils
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the non-statutory components of RSE

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the Executive Headteacher.

Primary classroom teachers are responsible for the delivery of the PSHE programme in EYFS, KS1 and KS2.

Humanities teachers and those with PSHE on their timetable are responsible for the delivery of KS3, KS4 and KS5 provision. Form tutors will explore elements of RSE with the pupils in their form.

6.4 Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

7. Parents' right to withdraw

Primary Phase

Parents do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education.

Secondary Phase

Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory components of sex education within RSE up to and until 3 terms before the child turns 16. After this point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than being withdrawn, the school will arrange this.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the Executive Headteacher. This must specify the specific content area of the RSE curriculum for which the request is being forwarded.

A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the pupil's educational record. The Executive Headteacher will discuss the request with parents and take appropriate action.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

A request which results in a withdrawal will have the duration of one academic year, in which time pupils will be covering different age-appropriate RSE content. A new request form must be submitted for each academic year.

8. Training

The Humanities team will deliver and are familiarised with the RSE programme of study. Form tutors are trained on the pastoral nature of their role.

The Deputy Headteacher: Inclusion, or the lead teacher for PSHE may invite professionals from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE.

9. Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of RSE is monitored by the Head of the Primary Phase and the Deputy Headteacher – Inclusion, through,

- Line management meetings with lead teachers, with responsibility for PSHE in both phases, reviews of schemes of work, lesson observations and learning walks.
- Pupils' development in RSE is monitored by class teachers as part of the internal assessment systems.

This policy will be reviewed by the Executive Headteacher. At every review, the policy will be approved by the governing board.
