

DAY 5 ENGLISH: Friday 12th February

KQ: Can I use different types of sentences?

During our topic on 'Vlad and the Florence Nightingale Adventure' we learnt about 4 different types of sentence...

LET'S RECAP...

Statements are sentences which tell you something. They end with a full stop.

Questions are sentences that ask you something. They end with a question mark.

Commands are sentences that tell you to do something, they are often urgent and can be very short.

Exclamations are sentences that state something with strong feeling or emotion. They begin with 'what' or 'how' and are full sentences. They end with an exclamation mark.

Follow the link below to find out more about the 4 different types of sentence:

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/articles/zg3bsk7>

Match the sentences to the correct sentence type.

How lucky we are to see a cub!

question

What would you do if a lion chased you?

statement

The female lion is called a lioness.

exclamation

Look at the images from the story below. Have a go at writing a question and an exclamation. One has been done for you.

QUESTION:

What meat will the lioness hunt down today?

EXCLAMATION:

Lions sleep all day so they can hunt at night. What a scary thought!

DAY 5 ENGLISH: Friday 12th February

KQ: Can I use different types of sentences?

Next week we are going to be focusing on and writing our very own non-chronological report. See if you can find out the features of a non-chronological report and what a good report looks like...

END OF LESSON. Thank you for participating in today's lesson. Please don't hesitate to send Miss Hughes or Miss Knight any work you complete, we would love to see it!